EDITORIAL GLEANINGS.

MISS BESSIE DEANE, who lived near Brady's Mills, Md., was returning home from a visit to a neighbor, when it began to rain. The hut of Dan Skunch, a ruffian mulatto, who lived with an old woman in a wretched hut, was near at hand and he asked her in for shelter, and when she went closed the door, and in presence of the old woman outraged her person, despite her frantic resistance and piercing shrieks. He then threw her out insensible. The rain revived her when she shrieked for aid. The fiend stamped upon her mouth, with his heel, tearing it frightfully, then clutching her tongue, tore it out of her throat. A small boy, hunting cows, heard her shrieks and gave the alarm. Miss Deane at last accounts was thought to be dying. The monster escaped, but in the night came to his hut, so says the old woman, who is under arrest, and cooked and ate a part of the tongue. The country is up, scouring the woods in search of this hideous excrescence on the face of nature. Miss Deane is said to have been beautiful and accomplished, the belle of her county; but what parent would pray that she might survive?

A LAW passed by the last New York Legislature provides that in "all dwelling houses that are now or may hereafter be erected in the city of New York, to contain or to be occupied by four or more families, above the first story," the hall partitions from foundation to roof shall be of brick, with sufficient ventilating flues; the floor beams of iron, with brick arches turned between them; the stairs of stone or iron, and the receptacles for fuel of fire proof material; that a stairway, connected with a proper opening, shall lead to the roof; that all the rooms on each floor shall connect by doors from front to rear; that "every such dwelling shall have placed thereon a practical fire proof fire-escape," and that several other costly, but prudent alterations shall be made before tenement houses can be legally occupied.

THE JAIL in Kings county, New York, from which, during the last six months, four persons have escaped, has now to chronicle the escape of a fifth—a convict serving out a term of three years and six months. These jail deliveries are becoming so common that the old joke of the bars being on prison windows to keep thieves out is fast losing its point, and is becoming an absolute fact, although the Weathersfield, (Conn.,) jail is an exception, as three thieves would not be kept out, and broke in, and took some money to defray their expenses after leaving; all of which must have seemed to the Weathersfielders like a delicious bit of sarcasm.

THE New York papers, having abandoned poor Ristori to her untoward fate, have begun to go mad again over some new sensations, and their fickle allegiance is about equally divided between Fraulein Jaunascheck, the German Tragedienne, and Offenbach's Grande Duchesse de Gerolstein. Most probably each is good in their way and worthy of much praise, but why should the regal Italian be so completely and decidedly snubbed? And we hear that, as usual, Philadelphia has followed the lead of New York and absolutely refuses to be sensationalized by the last year's favorite.

A HACK driver, named Pat. Hunt, in St. Louis, committed suicide on Tuesday, by taking laudanum in his whisky; the first dose not proving sufficient, he sent a small boy for another vial of the drug, the contents of which he again partook of in whisky; the second dose had the desired effect of putting him beyond mortal aid, so he died, leaving behind him a letter to his son, warning him not to follow in the footsteps of his father. The deed was deliberately and coolly done, and no cause is given or known for the crime.

FROM DETROIT we hear of a man having had both legs cut off by a passing train of cars. It seems that the man, by name Thomas Gregaire, was intoxicated, and lay down on the rails to sleep, from which he awoke to mutilation and agony, only to be eased by death. Such deaths are of almost weekly occurrence, and intoxicated men seem to have a mania for lying down on rails, and show an appreciation of their iron bed which is totally inexplicable to men in their sober senses.

SOME of the English papers are again groaning over the prospect of exhausted coal mines. This seems to be a periodical cause of pain to the Bovine papers, but they might, as like the wicked, cease from troubling, for America can supply a dozen of Englands for almost any reasonable time. What a glorious day it will be for the free traders when we have to export coal to England; or rather what a glorious day for us all, for we will all be free traders then.

ON Friday last, in St. Louis, several boys, in overhauling a pile of old soda water flasks, discovered one about half filled with a dark liquor, which they supposed to be sarsaparilla. One of the boys threatened to shoot another named Walter Fleming, if he would not drink it. Walter, who was only ten years old, did drink, was immediately taken very ill, and died on Wednesday morning. The liquor was found to be tincture of iodine.

THE death of Cassidy, at the Jerome Park races, is the second fatal accident at the hurdles, we have recorded this month. The first was at Mount Holly, N. J., where the victim offered to run his horse against time, but did run against a hurdle instead, and lost the race and his life at the same moment.

A LITTLE girl in Rumney, N. H., sank while bathing and was thirty minutes under water. The usual modes of restoring animation were used and continued twelve hours before she showed signs of life, and she did not recover full consciousness for two days, but she is now quite well.

MCCOOL, the pugilist, is said to be the correspondent who furnished a New York paper with the list of eligible batchelors in St. Louis. Several whose names were mentioned talked about chastising the correspondent until his name became known, they then concluded that it was not worth while.

Two nephews of Hon. John Bell have been arrested in Nashville, charged with shooting a colored man and his wife, killing the man and severely wounding the woman. She identified them, but they promise to prove an alibi and are admitted to bail in $10,000.

SINCE the election, Tom. Florence, Dan. Voorhees and Montgomery Blair have been serenaded in Washington. Should the Democrats carry the elections, next year, a like honor will be extended to his sworn Excellency, Jefferson Davis, there in that same place.

A SON of the Prussian General, Von Moltke, died in New Orleans, of yellow fever lately. He was a private in our army and was exceedingly reticent, nothing being known respecting him, excepting that he was a Prussian.

THE rank and file of Republicans appear anxious for the adoption of the Crawford county system in making nominations, and the matter will be brought before the Executive Committee of this county. The system consists in the people, at the primary meetings, voting for the candidates of their choice, and the selection of such as have a majority.

MEMPHIS had twenty-nine cases of yellow fever last week, but part of the Board of Health refuse to acknowledge it as an epidemic. Boards of Health generally do that sort of thing, but they do not often alter facts much.

GARIBALDI said to Dumas, visiting him in prison, "Tell Italy by every means in your power, that the Roman question will be settled by Italian steel, and not by the moral paths of any ministry whatever."

MISS ALIDA TOFF, a pupil of Liszt and Von Bulow, has recently arrived from Germany, and will appear on the stage as a pianist. She is said to equal Clara Schurrmann.

FROM the St. Paul, (Minn.) Advertiser we learn that Dr. La Dow, a physician of that place, shot himself through the bowels while out on a hunting excursion in the Sioux country.

MRS. MILAN, charged with poisoning her husband, in Chicago, and who ran off with another man, has been arrested in St. Louis and brought to Chicago for trial.

When outside of town he stopped at the house of a negro woman named Barnard. Yesterday morning he was found dead in the house and robbed of all the watches and a considerable amount of money. The negro woman has left for parts unknown, and is supposed to have committed the murder.

—Late advices from New Mexico say a large meeting of citizens of the territory was held at Santa Fe, September 21st, to consider measures to secure the extension of the Kansas Pacific Railroad through New Mexico to the Pacific Ocean. Governor Mitchell presided, and speeches were made by Gen. Palmer, Treasurer of the Railroad Company, Major Calhoun, Chief Justice Slough, Hon. C. R. Cleaver, Delegate to Congress, and others, all taking strong grounds in favor of the enterprise. A long series of resolutions were adopted, setting forth numerous reasons why the road should be built, and recommending Congress to extend the same aid to this road as has been or may be granted to the Omaha route.

—W. M. Murphy, who has been confined in the Missouri Penitentiary for the last two years, under sentence, by a Military Commission, for boat burning on the Mississippi River during the war, was brought before the United States Circuit Court on Wednesday, and the case argued on an application for his discharge. Judge Miller decided the case yesterday, by discharging the prisoner, on the ground of the unconstitutionality of the tribunal by which Murphy was tried and sentenced. The Judge also decided that the prisoner occupied the same position now as though he had not been tried and sentenced by military tribunal, and could be arraigned and tried upon the charge by the civil court. On motion of the District Attorney, the prisoner was remanded to confinement until to-day to allow an opportunity to renew the old charges, or prefer new ones, if any existed.

After taking a view of the political situation, he says New York is certain to go for the Democrats next month.

—The World says the President's views concerning the impeachment proposition have undergone no change. He looks upon it as a party movement, and is indifferent to it, but if there is an attempt made to suspend him from office, he will resist it with all the power he can command.

WASHINGTON

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18, 1867.

Col. Wood, Chief of the Secret Service Division of the Treasury Department, has had all his detectives at work in the service of discovering the counterfeit 7-30 notes. It is definitely ascertained that over one thousand have been put upon the market, and that the plates were not made in Europe but in this country. It is further stated that Philadelphia has been the headquarters for printing them. A clue to the whole proceeding is said to be in the possession of the Secret Service officers. According to the representations, one of the gang of counterfeiters had been so successful with his 7-30's that he forgot his discretion, and commenced putting into circulation counterfeit $10 and $20 bank notes, and upon the latter charge was captured; when he proved to be one of the very men whom Colonel Wood was in pursuit of. He was identified as having passed a number of 7-30's on a Brooklyn banker. His name is Cooper, and he is known as one of the gang. He is now in prison awaiting the action of Solicitor Jordan and Col. Wood, who are both in New York now.

NATIONAL BANKS AND THREE PER CENT. CERTIFICATES.

The following letter was made public to-day:

Treasury Department, Office Comptroller Currency, Washington, Oct. 18, 1867.—DEAR SIR: Your letter of the 15th inst. is received, enquiring what portion of the three per cent. certificates are available as a reserve for National Banks. The act of March 2d, 1867, authorizing the issue of the three per cent. certificates, and their use as a part of the reserve in the national banks, provides that not less than two-fifths of the entire reserve of such banks shall consist of lawful money of the United States. The country banks are required to have a reserve of fifteen per cents. of circulation and deposits, two fifths of which must be lawful money, and in three per cent. certificates, or in cash deposits, with the redemption agent selected by the bank. The banks of Boston and of the other cities, designated in section 31 of the National Currency act, are required to have a reserve of twenty-five per cents of their circulation and deposits, two-fifths of which must be lawful money, and three fifths of which may be in these certificates, or, if preferred, one-half of this reserve may be in cash deposits with the Redemption Agent in New York, two-fifths in lawful money and the remaining one-tenth in the three per cent. certificates.

I am, very respectfully,
J. J. KNOX,
Dep. and Acting Comptroller.

CHAS. G. NASARE,
President National Bank, Boston.

IRREGULARITY OF MAILS—REMOVAL OF MAIL AGENTS.

Complaints are plentiful against the Postoffice Department for irregularity of Western Mails. Yesterday an order came from the President to the Postmaster General to remove Mr. Mount, Mail Agent on the route between Washington and Richmond, and a special agent in East Tennessee. This is believed to be the beginning of a wholesale dismissal.

SERIOUS DISTURBANCES IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

The Charleston Courier this day received to-night, has a private letter from Pendleton, S. C. reporting a difficulty as having taken place between colored and white citizens, arising from a disturbance at meetings of colored loyal leagues by white men, in which Mr. Hunnicut, of Pickens, was killed. Detachments of troops have been sent to preserve order.

HOSTILITIES IN CRETE.

Official accounts from Crete to September 26th confirm the private advices of the resumption of hostilities against the Turks by order of the Government of the Island. The idea of restoring it to Turkish allegiance is scornfully rejected.

LOUISIANA CONVENTION.

Advices received from New Orleans state that the vote on Convention was 75,000, majority in favor 15,000. It is expected the Convention will be convoked at an early day.

SECOND MILITARY DISTRICT.

The Conference With the Governors—Now Jury Order of Gen. Canby.
[By Telegram to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHARLESTON, S. C., October 17.—Gen. Canby has returned from Columbia, after a full and satisfactory conference with Governors Orr and Worth. The principal object of the conference was to make arrangements for the financial affairs of the States. The fiscal year expires at the end of this month, and no means exist for carrying on the State Governments. Measures were agreed upon to meet this difficulty.

The following new jury order has been issued:

Upon the representations of the Governor of South Carolina, that for want of sufficient time it will be impracticable to impannel juries in some of the District and Circuit Courts of this State, in accordance with the provisions of General Order No. 89, in season for the fall terms of said Courts, and that a delay in the administration of justice may result therefrom, it is ordered:

First—That in all such District and Circuit Courts the jurors already drawn and summoned under the provisions of General Order No. 32, to be impannelled for the trial of all jury cases that may be set for trial at the next ensuing term of the said Courts, the right of challenge by the reason of non-registry shall be allowed and exercised as prescribed by General Orders No. 89.

Second—In drawing jurors at the Fall Terms of the District and Circuit Courts, for the next term of said Courts, the juries shall be drawn from the lists of all citizens who have paid taxes for the current year, and in the manner prescribed by the laws of the State, and to the end that the right of challenge shall be effective, the Sheriff of such district will be furnished with the list of registered voters in his district, after the same shall have been revised in conformity with the act of Congress of July 19th, 1867. The execution of Special Orders No. 176, paragraph 6, current series, from these Headquarters, is suspended until the revision of the registration as aforesaid has been completed.

Third—Whenever jurors have been impannelled for any District or Circuit Court of this State, in conformity with the provisions of General Orders No. 89, such impannels shall be deemed and held to be valid and effective panels.

THE INDIANS.

A Town in Arizona Added Upon by the Apaches—All the Stock Taken—The Apprehension Caused at Goodrich Lodge Creek—The Commissioners at Fort Larned.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 18.—Later advices from Arizona, state that Apaches made a raid on the town of Wickenburg and carried off the entire stock of the place. The Indians were well mounted and equipped. There was no resistance or pursuit, as the cavalry had taken all the horses. The loss of stock closes the operations of the Vulture company. The Indians continue their outrages in every direction. Gen. Gregge, commanding, is vigorously prosecuting the war, and were it not for lack of troops and stringency of orders at headquarters, more would have been accomplished.

ST. LOUIS, October 18.—The Indian Commission was at Fort Larned on the 12th, where they met Satanta, head chief of the Kiowas, and several leading chiefs of other tribes, who will accompany the Commissioners to Medicine Lodge Creek. Governor Crawford and Senator Ross, of Kansas, are with the Commission, and are strongly opposed to any temporizing policy with the Indians. In case treaties adequate to the security of absolute peace cannot be made, they will use all their influence to have a large number of troops stationed on the Plains and sufficient aid extended to the railroads to complete them. With the railroads finished they say game will disappear and with it the Indians.

Yellow Fever Bulletin.

NEW ORLEANS, October 18.—There were thirty-four interments from yellow fever to-day. The Howard Association has sent fifteen nurses to Memphis for yellow fever patients.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18, 1867.

BOILER EXPLOSION—THREE PERSONS KILLED AND FIVE WOUNDED.

A boiler used in loading and unloading steamers of the Liverpool, New York and Philadelphia line, situated in a shed at Pier No. 45, North River, blew up this afternoon with a terrible explosion. The main portion of the boiler was thrown from the pier, carrying away two heavy piles and a portion of the wall. The large shed, extending across the pier, was utterly demolished and the lighter portions of the boiler and machinery sent through the roof of the principal freight shed. Three persons were killed outright and five wounded, some probably fatally. The killed are Christie Gorgy, engineer, Owen Kelley, fireman on steamer City of Baltimore, and Nicholas Gorrey, son of the engineer, aged about sixteen, whose body has not been recovered, having been blown into the dock. The wounded are Thos. Kare, Thos. Lottus, Wm. Kerr, Alex. Dribaugh, and Samuel Hutchinson, who were scalded or injured by the falling timbers.

THE A. AND G. RAILWAY.

The report of the English Committee into the condition of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway, states that they found the property in a much worse condition than expected, but with the expenditure of $200,000 it would be put in good order and the business increased. The administration of the Receiver R. B. Porter, is praised, and good results anticipated from his management. The property has been worked six months, and the traffic from April 1st to March 31st next will probably reach 85,-750,000, and the completion of the Lincoln branch will give the road a large coal business. The Committee, in conclusion, state the road is worth more than the allowed bonds, but not the share capital. It is proposed to have the back coupons of the bonds paid with a seven per cent. first preference stock interest, which is to be paid out of the earnings of the Company applicable as a reserve for National Banks. The act of March 2d, 1867, authorizing the issue of the three per cent. certificates, and their use as a part of the reserve in the national banks, provides that not less than two-fifths of the entire reserve of such banks shall consist of lawful money of the United States. The following new jury order has been issued:

Upon the representations of the Governor of South Carolina, that for want of sufficient time it will be impracticable to impannel juries in some of the District and Circuit Courts of this State, in accordance with the provisions of General Order No. 89, in season for the fall terms of said Courts, and that a delay in the administration of justice may result therefrom, it is ordered:

First—That in all such District and Circuit Courts the jurors already drawn and summoned under the provisions of General Order No. 32, to be impannelled for the trial of all jury cases that may be set for trial at the next ensuing term of the said Courts, the right of challenge by the reason of non-registry shall be allowed and exercised as prescribed by General Orders No. 89.

Second—In drawing jurors at the Fall Terms of the District and Circuit Courts, for the next term of said Courts, the juries shall be drawn from the lists of all citizens who have paid taxes for the current year, and in the manner prescribed by the laws of the State, and to the end that the right of challenge shall be effective, the Sheriff of such district will be furnished with the list of registered voters in his district, after the same shall have been revised in conformity with the act of Congress of July 19th, 1867. The execution of Special Orders No. 176, paragraph 6, current series, from these Headquarters, is suspended until the revision of the registration as aforesaid has been completed.

Third—Whenever jurors have been impannelled for any District or Circuit Court of this State, in conformity with the provisions of General Orders No. 89, such impannels shall be deemed and held to be valid and effective panels.

THE INDIANS.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 18.—Later advices from Arizona, state that Apaches made a raid on the town of Wickenburg and carried off the entire stock of the place. The Indians were well mounted and equipped. There was no resistance or pursuit, as the cavalry had taken all the horses. The loss of stock closes the operations of the Vulture company. The Indians continue their outrages in every direction. Gen. Gregge, commanding, is vigorously prosecuting the war, and were it not for lack of troops and stringency of orders at headquarters, more would have been accomplished.

ST. LOUIS, October 18.—The Indian Commission was at Fort Larned on the 12th, where they met Satanta, head chief of the Kiowas, and several leading chiefs of other tribes, who will accompany the Commissioners to Medicine Lodge Creek. Governor Crawford and Senator Ross, of Kansas, are with the Commission, and are strongly opposed to any temporizing policy with the Indians. In case treaties adequate to the security of absolute peace cannot be made, they will use all their influence to have a large number of troops stationed on the Plains and sufficient aid extended to the railroads to complete them. With the railroads finished they say game will disappear and with it the Indians.

A letter from Superintendent Murphy cautions the Commission against taking a large escort with them, for fear a military force will frighten the Indians away from Medicine Lodge.

LONDON, Oct. 18—Midnight.—The following dispatch has been received from Florence direct, dated to-night it is reported that Gen. Garibaldi has again escaped from Caprera, and that he left the island on board of an American ship.

The Garibaldians have appeared in the western district between Rome and the sea. They have taken possession of the railway running between the city of Rome and the sea port of Ostia, and torn up the rails, preventing all communication.

It is still believed here in Florence that the governments of Italy and France have a perfect understanding with each other, and are really acting together in the treatment of the Roman question.

ENGLAND.

DINNER TO THE DERBY MINISTRY.

LONDON, October 18.—At a dinner at Manchester last evening, to the Derby Ministry, Earl Derby defended the action of the Government on the Reform question, and referred to some of the attacks on the Reform bill.

Lord Stanley, Secretary of Foreign Affairs, spoke of the disturbed condition of Europe, but declared that notwithstanding the threatened condition of affairs, he still entertained hopes that peace would be preserved. In reviewing the present relation of Great Britain with foreign powers, he alluded to the controversy with the United States in regard to claims for indemnity, arising out of the late war in that country. This controversy, he said, still remained open, but that England had all along dealt with America in a friendly temper, already soothing any irritation which might have arisen on either side of the Atlantic.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 18.—The Republican candidates for Register of Wills, Clerk of Orphans Court and City Commissioner have commenced the contest in the Court of Common Pleas with the Democrats, who have received certificates. Election frauds are alleged in many wards. In one precinct the Democratic election officers are said to have received one hundred and ninety-six votes from persons not on the list of voters. Similar frauds are charged in the 24, 10th, 15th, 17th and 25th wards, more than enough to change the result.

THE OFFICIAL VOTE of the State, complete, shows 266,824 for WILLIAMS, and 268,026 for SHARSWOOD, which gives the latter a majority of 1,202. The decrease in the Republican vote, as compared with that cast for GEARY, is 40,450; the Democratic decrease on the CLYMER vote is 22,070; total falling off in State vote 62,520. The decrease in the Republican majority of Allegheny county, alone, elected SHARSWOOD. Had the same vote been given WILLIAMS here as was awarded GEARY, he would have been elected by a majority of one hundred and seventy-five.

THE FALLING LEAVES.

Marching in the careless procession of Springs, and Summers, and Autumns, and Winters, which carries with it, to the regions of the great unknown, all the living creatures that witness its phenomena, has come another Autumn. Our mountains sit in crimson and gold, and many tinted, gorgeous hues, like giant boquets in the centre of the great table which nature spreads, as the gala feast, at the close of her year's labor in providing food for her family. The little hills have dropped their emerald and reflect only the colors of the closing day. Each leaf, in preparing for its fall, has put on sunset or russet robes. The Hickory has donned his gold, the Oak his crimson or brown, the Sumach her scarlet, the Maple her dappled splendor, and await the breath of command "earth to earth, and dust to dust!" Do these colors teach the glory of immortality, the noisomeness of physical decay, or both? The leaf has done its work; and again will it appear in new combinations of leaf, or flower, or fruit—in the fibre of the tough oak, or juicy pulp of the luscious peach. Unless it die it cannot rise again, in new organization, to perform the new work appointed for it by The Great Disposer. Is not, therefore, decay and death, and future life, inseparably connected? In a world where there is no leaf, no spray, but is appointed to another life, to a succession of lives, how could the master man drift away to nothingness and endless night?

Where are those who have sat where we sit, and watched the leaves which have preceeded these in their return to dust and bloom to the darkness of death, under stream or sod; and the light of the early morning on the top of the swaying branch?

From the opposite wall, in "counterfeit presentment," the mild, brown eyes of HYRAM KAINE look down upon us. A little while ago he indited fine fancies in prose and verse, for the reading public of our smoky city. Of infinite humor, and gentle nature, it was seldom his pen inflicted a wound; but when a great wrong called for a reproof, it became a Damascus blade. Where is R. M. RIDDLE, the accomplished epigramist, who, for so many years filled so large a space in the editorial ranks of Pittsburgh? and his burley opponent BIDDLE, of the American, who wielded the battle axe of political warfare like a veritable Highland chief? WHITNEY, the affable and untiring, who first sent the Chronicle on its mission through our streets. FLEESON, who toiled in his office, on the corner of Market and the Diamond, second floor, to sustain "The Spirit of Liberty," and, with nervous tenacity, clung to his principles through fair weather and foul? CHARLES P. SHIRAS, "the Iron City Poet," who, from the forge of his working brain, rang out the chimes of who stood by Liberty when her friends were few, and the Workingman when his own vote was cast against himself! Where are the readers, the patrons, the opponents, for and against whom they wrote and labored, exhorted and counted "The Returns?" Those are among the leaves that have fallen, while many of these are still clinging to the tree; and many, many moulder at the foot. Of that work which was the veritable life of those who are gone, what portion lies in the dust? What has risen into new forms. How much of evil, how much of good, has sprung, or shall spring, from these fallen leaves, those lives with which so many of us have been more or less connected? The passion and the pride, the haste and inconsiderateness, the manly earnestness, the devotion to principle, the evil and the good, must all take new forms, must all be as seed sown, of which the crop will continue to be reaped by this generation and those who are yet to come. What have we been gathering in our lives? Have we made combinations which shall nourish the virtues or vices of those who shall succeed us, and to whom our lives shall be, as the leaves of years gone by, are to those which are now or shall be hereafter? Do we realize that we live for all time? that even if there were no personal immortality within us, we exist forever in the results of our actions? Now is the time to gather wisdom of "the sear and yellow leaf," to look backward to what we owe to those who have gone before, and forward on our obligations to those who shall follow us in the funeral march which carries all onward to the grave.

"Dimes and dollars, dollars and dimes,

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Chicago has the reputation of being a place where the marriage tie is little respected and may be easily severed However true this may be in regard to the "loose characters" that float about in society, and are so numerous in that puffed-up-city, the charge is ill-founded, in so far as the religious community are concerned. All denominations are endeavoring to impress the community o the sacredness of the marriage relation. Recently the Episcopal Convention of that Diocese took action on the matter, and pointed out means that should be employed to environ the marriage ceremony with safe-guards, and tend to correct the views of the masses on the subject. The Rock River (Ill.) Conference of the M. E. Church, of which Chicago is a part of its territory, had the question of Divorce before them, to consider the report of a special committee—framed in response to memorials presented to that body—which took the ground against divorce for any cause except for the crime of adultery. The report urges all good people to unite in petitioning the Legislature of the State to amend the laws of divorce so as to establish the above rational principle, and prohibit marriage to the party guilty of adultery, as well as to any and all parties who apply for divorce on any other ground than adultery. The Conference went further than the mere surveillance of its own territory, by directing its delegates to the General Conference, which holds its Quadrennial Session next May in Chicago, the law making body of the Church, to endeavor to obtain the insertion in the Discipline of an explicit statement of the doctrine of the Bible on this subject; second, of a rule excluding from the Church all persons who apply for the annulling of the marriage relation on other than scriptural ground of adultery; third, of a rule prohibiting the ministers of the M. E Church from performing the marriage ceremony when either of the parties seeking marriage have been divorced, for other cause than adultery, from a person still living. Action such as the Episcopal Convention and the Methodist Conference is a move in the right direction, and the right source to inaugurate such a movement. Let the people be educated up to the Scripture standard of the marriage tie, and then unprincipled legislators will be forced to conform our State laws to the laws of God, as revealed in the Bible, and thus revoke the power of our County Courts to annul marriages.

The internal commotion going on in the Episcopal Church, according to the religious press, between the High and Low Church parties, ritualists and anti-ritualists, and the struggle in the Lutheran Church, between the Symbolists and Anti-Symbolists, to gain the ascendancy and establish their orthodoxy, is evidently not understood by outsiders as well as they think. We have found by conversing with the representatives of the different parties, that, while these questions are prominent, and discernable on the surface by the general public, that a multitude of side issues and local troubles are mixed up with the great questions. Journals of other denominations frequently are wide off the mark in their opinions of these questions, and reach unwarrantable conclusions. Perhaps the only service the newspapers of other denominations accomplish in the great contest going on in these bodies will be to inflame the advocates of the respective parties to greater zeal and activity, and bring the issues to an earlier solution, than if the press of these denominations were let alone to settle the questions at their leisure.

Questions of great importance are now being discussed by the press of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and indeed for some time, in view of the session of the General Conference next May. Prominent among these questions is lay representation. All the official papers, except, perhaps two, favor the introduction of the lay element, in some form or other, and we believe, the different un official papers are favorable to this reform. More recently other questions have loomed up, such as the modification of the office of presiding elder, arranging Episcopal visitations, from being general, into districts for a given term of years. Closely connected with the latter, is the manner of their support. Heretofore, and at present, their salaries are fixed by a committee of ministers, where they respectively reside, and then they draw upon the Book Concern for their pay. In 1866 a trifle over forty thousand dollars was paid for the salaries and traveling expenses of the Bishops. This sum is taken out of the profits of the Book Concern. Previous to 1836 each Annual Conference raised contributions within their respective bounds for their support. The advocates of reform propose, that the proportionate amount necessary for their support be devided among the different Annual Conferences, and then let the profits of the Book Concern be wholly devoted to cheapening the publications of the Concern, and thereby enable it to compete with other publishing houses, or rather sell at lower rates than others.

The re-union of the Old and New School Presbyterian Churches, on the basis of the terms submitted by the Joint Committee of the General Assembly of these bodies, according to the vote thus far in the Old School Presbyteries, will not be consummated this year. The vote so far as we have heard, for terms of re-union, is as follows: Chillicothe, White Water, New Albany, Indianapolis, Marion, Findlay—6. Against—Potomac, Winnebago, Long Island, Sangamon, Fort Wayne, Desmoines, Crawfordsville, Peoria, Schuyler, Beaver, West Lexington, St. Paul, Luzerne, —12.

There is just cause for alarm in the Protestant denominations at the present drift of things, that a scholarly ministry, taken as a whole, is working away from the unscholarly masses of the people. We favor ministerial culture in the highest degree, but there should be associated with it the idea, in its broadest form, that their work is equally as necessary among the poor and ignorant as the rich and educated. Prof. Phelps' address to the late senior class of Andover, has the right ring in it, and is worthy of being scattered broadcast. The Professor argues that rather than the theory of ministerial culture, as he had tried to represent to them, should result in drifting asunder the pulpit and the lower orders of society, he would abandon the whole of it. He would drop it as he would a viper. He thinks a preacher had better work in the dark with nothing but mother wit, a quickened conscience, and a Saxon Bible to teach him what to do and how to do it, than to vault into an aerial ministry in which only the upper classes shall know or care anything about him. Better, he urges, go and talk the Gospel, in the Cornish dialect, to those miners who told the witnesses summoned by the committee of the English Parliament that they had "never heard of Mister Jesus Christ in these mines," than do the work of the Bishop of London. What is needed is to make the ministry reach the people. The great problem of life to our educated ministry should be to make their culture a power instead of a luxury. We hope hereafter to chronicle fewer calls and acceptances on the ground of salary and social comfort, more because their usefulness may be increased irrespective of temporal or social benefits.

The Watchman and Reflector (Baptist) in reply to the inquiry of a correspondent in regard to re baptism says, while it does not assume to speak ex cathedra, that it would be governed by the following general rule, which it thinks, on the one hand comforms sufficiently to a safe conservatism, and, on the other, to the requirements of truth, faithfulness and charity. Recognize the baptism, when duly administered, of all evangelical denominations, and ignore entirely that of the unevangelical, however administered.

The Independent is slashed on all sides by the religious and secular press, for its assumption of being a "religious journal." The Transcript of the "Hub," edited by a Unitarian, speaking of the editor of the Independent announcing that he publishes a "religious paper," says he makes a wide-awake newspaper, but the less he says about its "religion" the better. This cutting remark provoses the following from the Christian Union: Better drop the mask, brother Tilton, and cease to be a laughing stock of the world, and the shame of the Church. The last issue of the tenth, in justice to brother Tilton, is rather more religious than usual. Perhaps a work of grace has commenced in his heart and we shall have a more evangelical type of articles hereafter.

During the session of the Miami Baptist Association, in Cincinnati, an illustration of the use of the black board in Sabbath Schools was given. During a discussion of the matter, one of the speakers went so far as to suggest that it would be a good thing if ministers could overcome the dignity of their position, and use the black board in their pulpits, on which to place the leading points of their discourses, so the congregation could follow their chain of reasoning.

We have before us a copy of the "Proceedings of the Twelfth Annual Convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of the United States and British Provinces, held at Montreal, June 1867," a well arranged and handsomely printed pamphlet of 155 large octavo pages. It is an exceedingly interesting publication, the record of the proceedings being enlivened by many terse and spirit-stirring addresses, given verbatim. The British Provinces and most of the States of this Union were represented, some of them very largely—New York, including the city, having sent 177 delegates. Regular reports were entered upon the records of the Convention from one hundred and forty-two Young Men's Christian Associations in the United States and the British Provinces, a large majority of them being in the former. In addition to these, there is an appendix giving the names, locations and Secretaries of several hundreds of similar associations in Great Britain and Ireland, the Asiatic, African and insular colonies of that Empire, and on the continent of Europe.

The multiplication of these associations throughout the world is a marked and hopeful feature of our times, for they cannot fail to have a powerful influence for good, and in counteracting the evil influences now so active and potent in all large centres of population. Next week, as has been fully announced, our city is to be favored with a convention of the same kind—not so general as that held at Montreal in June, but sufficiently so to bring among us a large body of warm hearted, energetic, Christian men. Let the hospitality, the co-operation, and the fraternal sympathies of our people be such as to cause these brethren, when they return to their homes, to carry with them pleasant memories of Pittsburgh, and spirits strengthened for good works.

The Universe, a Roman Catholic paper of Philadelphia, announces that hereafter it will be published semi-weekly instead of weekly as heretofore. This is an evidence of prosperity which we are glad to see. The success of a religious paper, if it be a good one, is always to be desired, no matter what denomination it may represent.

AN AUTUMN SUGGESTION.

Now, as heavy fogs arise and searching winds commence to blow; now as the human body, exhausted like inanimate nature by the heats of summer begins to wilt and droop; now, ere the inclement winter makes its ungle onset; NOW is the time for a preparatory course of the best and most salutary medicine in existence,

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Fevers and ague is rampant in all parts of the country. Quinine, the physicians admit, will not touch one of the diseases which at present pervades that entire West. It is used in fact so far the remedy (so-called) is dreaded for that malady. But if, unique in itself as in its effects, every HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is a perfect cure, never nearly nor in any case does it fail, never leaves a sting behind. "Any disease emanating from the liver or any portion of the stomach or bowels, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS would take it off." Read according to directions, during the term of its existence. There has never been an invention in which Infidelity has forgot, and in which well-informed medicine has failed to appreciate, a remedy for fever and ague and all diseases against malaria. How far it obviates as have asserted, all the evil consequences of the climate, both a harmless and a vegetable one, and nothing else, as a preventive and cure, as the form of chills and fever. Vigor is the result. More need is there to call attention to dyspepsia and nervousness. Eczema, and all the affections of the skin, the surest, surest and most wholesome strengthener of preparation that human skill has yet done for it.

BLIND EYES RESTORED.

The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on Dr. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his genius and skill in restoring her TO ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher had been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like hers are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DOCTOR KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him through her brother, Simon P. Fisher, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and it has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

THE COURTS.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

PROPERTY OF DEFENDANTS.

The Court made the following order:

"And now, October 18, 1867. It is hereby ordered that in all cases hereafter tried in the Quarter Sessions and Oyer and Terminer, where property is found in the possession of any defendant and taken from his custody by any committing magistrate, or other person, having control or charge of said defendant, previous to the trial of said defendant, in either of said Courts, and the same is produced in Court upon said trial, such property shall be left in charge of the Clerk of the Courts, to be by him safely kept until the owner thereof, or some person duly authorized by him, shall call for the same, except when such person shall appear in Court at said trial and receive the same, unless otherwise ordered by the Court."

THE LIVERY CASE.

In the case of Finley Graham, indicted for misdemeanor under the livery stable act, on oath of Robert T. White, of Allegheny, the jury found a verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred.

FALSE PRETENSE CASE.

Samuel Woods was indicted, on oath of Henderson Wilson, for obtaining seventy-two dollars worth of goods under false representations, stating that he was working for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, had a month's pay due him, and would pay for the goods in thirty days. The offense was laid on the 12th of September, 1865, and the bill found September 20th, 1867. A little more than two years having intervened, the statute limitations was held to apply, and the accused thus escaped. A nolle pros equi was entered and the defendant discharged.

SELLING ON SUNDAY.

James Goukler, saloon keeper on Liberty street, was indicted for selling liquor on Sunday, on oath of Thomas Smith. The question in this case was one of time. The prosecutor testified that he went into the house after twelve o'clock Saturday night, and, in pursuance of instructions of the Mayor, ordered the place to be closed. The clock at the bar indicated fifteen minutes short of twelve o'clock, but Smith contended that the clock was slow. A dispute arose, several parties in the saloon producing their watches, and contending that the clock was but five minutes slow, making the time ten minutes before twelve. Smith was persistent in arguing that the time was after twelve o'clock, so much so that Mr. Goukler, proprietor of the saloon, ordered him out, and refusing to go, had him arrested and taken to the tombs. The weight of the evidence went to show that Smith was anxious to make a case against Goukler, even taking a drink at the bar himself in order, as he thought, to secure prima facie evidence. He had been at another saloon just previously (the Sirwell House) and was there refused a drink, and there was some evidence that he was intoxicated. There was no other evidence of drinking after twelve o'clock (according to Smith's time) except a glass of ale called for and paid for by Smith himself.

The jury, doubtless not impressed with the consistency of Smith's conduct as an officer, found a verdict of not guilty, the prosecutor (Smith) to pay two-thirds the costs, and the defendant the remaining one-third.

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL.

In the case of James Brown, constable, and Charles Simmons, convicted of larceny, (reported yesterday) M. Swartzwelder, Esq., counsel for defense, moved for a new trial, and filed the following reasons: 1st, That the Court erred in excluding from the jury evidence as to the question of felonious intent; 2d, that the Court erred in excluding from the jury evidence of conversations and expressions of defendants indicative of their intent, very shortly before the commission of the alleged offense; 3d, that the Court erred in charging the jury that there was evidence showing that the defendants had been at the store of prosecutor prior to the evening of the 28th July, and that such evidence militated against the theory of the defendants.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Ann M. Matter, wife of a saloon keeper, in Allegheny City, was indicted for assault and battery, on oath of Philip Beilstein, but it appearing that the husband of the defendant was present, (one witness even testifying that he ordered his wife to make the assault,) the Court directed that a verdict of not guilty should be found, but the jury might pass upon the question of costs, which they did, directing that the prosecutor and defendant each pay one-half the same.

Court adjourned. Jury discharged until Monday.

United States District Court—Judge Metcandless.

FRIDAY, Oct. 18.—Arguments were heard on motions for preliminary injunctions in patent cases. The first case was an application of Josiah Kirby for a preliminary injunction restraining Peter M. Hayden from infringing on a patent machine for the manufacture of bungs. Wm. Bakewell, Esq., Kirkpatrick & Mellon, and Judge Coffin, of Cincinnati, appeared for the plaintiff, and T. M. Marshall, Esq., for defendant. The Court granted the preliminary injunction, restraining Hayden from the manufacture, use and sale of said patent bungs until further order of the Court.

The next was the application of James Woods to restrain Messrs. Harbaugh, White & Gaston from infringing on a machine for the manufacture of iron nuts, and also to restrain the New Castle Manufacturing Company from using a machine infringing on the rights of the same patent. In the first case Messrs. Bakewell and Christy appeared for the plaintiff, and Messrs. White and Single for the defendants. In the other case, Judge Coffin, of Cincinnati, and Messrs. Kirkpatrick and Mellon appeared for the defendants, and Messrs. Bakewell and Christy for plaintiff. The plaintiff claims the right under a patent issued in 1851 to Kinan, Carter & Reese, and the defendants are operating under a patent granted to Leopold Thomas in 1863, known as the Eureka machine. The defendants submitted an affidavit sworn and subscribed to by one of the members of the New Castle Manufacturing Company, in which it was set forth that in a conversation with the plaintiff he had admitted to affiant that the Eureka machine did not interfere with his (plaintiff's) patent, and that was the reason no steps had been taken against the owners of the right. After the affidavit had been presented, Mr. Bakewell asked that the argument be postponed, in order that he might have the opportunity to procure a re-butting affidavit from the plaintiff. The request was granted and Court adjourned until ten o'clock Saturday.

Common Pleas—Judge Sterrett.

FRIDAY, Oct. 18.—In the case of Burns vs. Hunter—action for slander—the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for one hundred and fifty dollars damages.

Before Judge Mellon.

George Lyste et al vs. Owners of the steamboat "Shark." Action to recover damages alleged to have been sustained by the sinking of coal barges and coal belonging to plaintiffs, through carelessness and mismanagement of defendants' servants, near plaintiffs' landing. On trial.

District Court—Judge Hampton.

FRIDAY, October 18.—Charles Knapp and J. B. Poynden vs. J. Charles Dicken, garnishee. Jury out.

A New Romance.

Purchasing at fair prices the manuscript of distinguished authors, for publication in a weekly journal of Pittsburgh, a few years ago was considered a proceeding entirely out of the limits of newspaper enterprise. The journals were filled with light stories, republished from eastern contemporaries, or gratuitously furnished by aspiring unknown writers. The Leader, however, in pursuance with its significant title, broke through the old lines, and at great expense furnished original romances from the pens of America's most gifted sons and daughters. The experiment was not a failure, but, on the contrary, a grand success. The proprietors, encouraged by their increased circulation, made during the publication of late romances, have made another bold business stroke, and have secured, over eastern competitors, a brilliant romance, fresh from the brain of that most accomplished and pleasing writer of fiction, Esther Serle Kenneth, entitled "Revenge; or, A Woman's Secret." The publication of this great effort of the authoress commences with to-morrow's issue of the Leader, and will run through several numbers following. We have been courteously furnished with advance proofs of the romance, and can promise a great intellectual treat to its readers. Do not fail to procure the initial chapter of the story, but buy a Leader to-morrow and judge for yourself of the ability of the talented writer.

An Appeal is made to the charitable on behalf of the sufferers from the fire in Allegheny on Wednesday morning last. The sufferers, a poor but industrious family, consisting of a widowed mother and three daughters, by the name of Gallagher, had, by their united efforts, succeeded in getting a little home, humble but every way sufficient, and by the indulgence and Christian kindness of Mr. George A. Kurtz, the builder of the house, were getting along very well in paying for it, saving a certain sum each month, which they paid over promptly. In this way they expected soon to pay the last dollar on their property. But by no fault of theirs the fire alluded to consumed their house, and now they are homeless. A trifling contribution from the charitable to help make up the great loss they have sustained will be thankfully received by George R. Riddle, Esq., at the Franklin Saving Bank, Ohio street, Allegheny.

The State Christian Convention.

We earnestly trust that our friends will bear in mind the State Christian Convention, which is to be held in this city next week. It will convene on Tuesday evening, at seven and a half o'clock, in the First Presbyterian Church, (Rev. S. F. Scovel, Pastor,) on Wood, between Fifth and Sixth street, for Organization, Conference and Prayer. The Convention will continue in session on Wednesday and Thursday, and on Thursday evening the anniversary exercises of the Young Men's Christian Association will take place.

The Preliminary Business Committee, to whom was referred the selection of topics for discussion in the Convention, have reported the following:

I. THE CHRISTIAN.

How can we increase our personal devotion and sense of responsibility, and best secure preparation for Christian work?

II. THE CHURCH.

How shall we develop the individual Churches, manifest our essential unity, and improve devotional meetings?

III. THE CHURCH AND THE WORLD.

How shall we ascertain destitutions, reach special classes, carry the Gospel to remote neighborhoods, so improve church arrangements as to secure a larger attendance, and overcome the special difficulties arising from the temptations and excitements of city life?

IV. THE CHURCH AND CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATIONS.

What are the relations, primary aim and object of Young Men's Christian Associations; their best method of operation, with instances of their adaptation and efficiency?

V. THE CHURCH, CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATIONS, AND OUR COUNTRY.

What special demands do the vastness of our territory, our rapidly increasing population, and the character of the numerous immigrants, make upon all Christians and Christian organizations in this land?

The Preliminary Business Committee consists of the Rev. S. F. Scovel, Hon. Henry W. Williams, Major William Frew, M. A. Woodward, Esq., and J. W. F. White, Esq.

George H. Stuart, Esq., of Philadelphia, D. L. Moody, Esq., of Chicago, H. Thane Miller, of Cincinnati, and other eminent Christian workers, with delegations from Cincinnati and other cities, have promised to be present.

Every city church, in sympathy with the objects of the Convention, is requested to send a delegation of its pastor and a number of lay members, and to unite in constant prayer to the Great Head of the Church for the presence and guidance of the Holy Spirit.

The attendance will, from present indications, be large, and it is therefore necessary, in order that accommodations may be secured for delegates, that the members of the different churches report immediately to the Church Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, with full particulars as to their name and residence, and the number of delegates to be received, and where there is no Church Committee the report may be sent to A. B. Riggs, Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth street. Parties who would prefer it can contribute for any number to be provided for at some of the hotels, under arrangements made by the Association.

The Church Committee will hold their last meeting at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, on next Monday afternoon, at four o'clock, when final reports will be received.

The public are cordially invited to attend all the discussions and proceedings of the Convention.

On the 25th and 26th the Allegheny county Sabbath School Teachers Institute will also hold their annual Convention in Christ Methodist Episcopal Church, Penn street.

General Conference of the Evangelical Association.

General prayer meeting met at the usual time. General attendance of delegates, and exercises interesting. The Evangelical Association is a member of the great Methodist family, and in doctrine, discipline and institutions very much resembles those of the M. E. Church. Dr. Nash, a member of the delegation of the M. E. Church, presented the christian greetings and fraternal salutations of the General Conference of that church, and addressed the Conference, urging a closer unity of action in the prosecution of the various enterprises of the two churches, especially in the dissemination of christian literature and the sustaining of its institions of learning. He also spoke of the organic mission of the the two churches, and assured us that the M. E. Church is favorable to such a Union, provided we could see Providential indications that it was directed.

Professor Roshevelier also spoke of the German work in the Methodist Episcopal Church, and especially of their Missionary Institute in Germany, and desired that the candidates for our ministry in Germany might prosecute their studies at their Institute there.

Referred to a Committee of Five, including both Bishops.

Closed with the usual services by G. W. Secher, of the Illinois delegation.

Afternoon session opened by J. Adams, of the East Pennsylvania Conference. The interests of the Printing and Book establishments claimed the attention of the Conference. Earnest measures have been adopted to promote the interests of the establishment. The Committee on Public Worship reported as follows:

The Soldiers' Home.

MESSRS. EDITORS: The notice which appeared in your paper of Oct. 6th, reflecting upon the management of the "Soldiers Home," is calculated to create a prejudice against the "Home," which all familiar with it know to be under the management of a faithful and conscientious Board and Superintendent, and it is only to those not accquainted with that fact that an explanation is required.

One of the rules of this institution, with which all are made acquainted when they enter, is that drunkenness will not be tolerated, and that any inmate who presents himself in that condition shall forfeit his claim to the privileges of the establishment.

The individual referred to by "A late Soldier," as a "victim of the caprice of the rulers of the Home," was discharged very reluctantly in a state of intoxication, and, as his discharge states, it was at his own request, as he was conscious of having forfeited his claim to remain in the institution.

Your correspondent has recommended a guard house as the proper means of treating drunkenness. If he has been a soldier, as he claims to have been, he is probably aware that guard houses are peculiar to military organizations, and as the "Home" is not of that character, of course the absurdity of the suggestion is evident.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

—Efforts are being made to establish a woolen mill near Parkersburgh. All such efforts should be encouraged to success.

—William Gans, of Springhill township, Fayette county, fell through a haymow in his barn on Saturday, October 5th and received such injuries as to cause his death on Monday. He was seventy-nine years of age, an upright, useful and respectable citizen. He leaves a large circle of relatives and friends to lament his painful and unexpected death.

—The Indiana, Pa., Messenger says: On Friday night of week before last, some unmitigated scoundrel, being tired walking, rode off a fine horse of Mr. W. D. Ferguson, of White township, and turned him loose near Centreville, where he was found by Mr. Ferguson. This infamous practice is becoming very common in this county. Some four hundred barrels of oil upon the side hill. A party of men who were at work a short distance below where the tank burst, were enveloped to the waist in a torrent of oil, but fortunately escaped without injury. The loss will be nearly $5,000. Messrs. Newlon & Andrews are the sufferers.

—Mr. A. F. Barger, of Clearfield county, was killed last Tuesday while driving a wagon load of boards to town. The horses became unmanageable while being driven down hill, and he sprang out, but some part of his clothing catching on the stay chain, took on the front of the axle of the wagon, he was dragged for some distance down the road until the terrified horses turned into the woods, still dragging the unfortunate man over stumps and rocks until they became entangled in the thicket. The remains when found were shockingly torn and mangled. Mr. Barger was one of the most respectable young men in the county, and leaves a wife and family to lament his loss.

—The New York Tribune says: Joseph and Bella Perry, who recently left Mercer county, Pa., to go to their native country, England, were entered into James McCarron's ticket office, No. 75 Robinson street. The woman allowed McCarren to count $1,500 which she possessed, and he returned only $1,500. To pacify her McCarron restored a $100 bill, which he pointed out to her lying on the floor near the counter, but he denied knowledge of the other $100. On being taken before Justice Dowling, he consented to give her $100 on condition that he should be released. The offer was accepted.

—The Reading Dispatch says: About four o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Mr. John Wilhelm, a German, employed in hauling stone from Penn's Mount, met with a sad accident. In coming down the hill with a loaded wagon, Mr. W. was in the rear of the vehicle, to attend to the brake, and in getting into a deep rut, a huge stone rolled from the wagon, striking him on the hand and arm, crushing it in a horrible manner. The arm was broken in two places below the elbow. A physician was summoned who attended to his wounds.

—George Miller, of Eberly's Mills, Cumberland county, was killed at Williamsport, Lycoming county, on Tuesday last. As the evening train for Harrisburg, on which he was a passenger, was being switched off at the depot, Mr. Miller in some unknown manner, got on the track, and was run over, the car wheels passing over his head. About four hundred dollars in money was found in his possession.

—While a little negro sweep was engaged in cleaning a chimney at the Marine National Bank, in Erie, some thoughtless person kindled a fire in a stove. The hot air and smoke instantly strangled the boy, who let go his hold and fell to the bottom of the flue. The lad was soon extricated, but he died Friday morning from the effects of hot air.

—The Dauphin County Solders' Monument (says the Harrisburg Telegraph) is to be erected. The contract (for $11,000) has been awarded to Mr. Henry Myers, of Harrisburg.

LANCASTER.—On the 3d inst., David Weidman was suffocated to death by hailing foul air, while cleaning a well on the premises of Henry Graybill, in Larkville.

FULTON.—George Finonff, of McConnelsburg, last week caught in a trap a young bear, weighing over forty pounds.

RICHMOND, VA.

Gen. Imboden and Registration—Political Views of Republican and Conservative Meetings.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

RICHMOND, Oct. 18.—General Imboden, with a view of making Gen. Schofield a defendant in the mandamus, and to exhaust all remedies under the reconstruction act, under advice of counsel appealed from the decision of the Registration Board. Gen. Schofield replied, sustaining the action of the Board.

The canvass is being vigorously conducted by both parties, and both profess to be sanguine of success.

A great Republican meeting is being held in Capital Square this evening. It is now being addressed by Hunnicutt, General Washburne, Governor Cox, editor of Committee, and others also addressed the meeting.

The Conservatives are also holding a meeting.

Not Murdered, But Robbed.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

PHILADELPHIA, October 18.—James Rush, a watch peddler, went to Camden yesterday afternoon, with five watches and, it is supposed, a large amount of money. His dead body was discovered last evening in Raightersville, a negro settlement below Camden. There were no marks of violence on the body, but he had been robbed of all his valuables. He apparently died from an apoplectic fit.

North Carolina Convention Nominations.

WILMINGTON, N. C., October 18.—The Republicans have nominated General J. Z. Abbott and S. S. Ashley, white, and H. H. Galloway, colored, for the Convention. Some of the negroes are dissatisfied because there are not two of their color on the ticket.

The Largest Oysters.—The Oyster season has commenced in right good earnest, and our friend Holtzheimer, of the popular Continental Dining Rooms, Fifth street, next door to the Postoffice, daily receives supplies of the finest quality from the best makets. Call in and try a chafing dish, or have them served up in any style according to your own taste. The largest, best and finest oysters in the city are those at Holtzheimer's.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Gold opened at 144¾ and remained firm at that all day. The sudden rise yesterday from 143 to 144¾ prevented to shorts to cover at lower rates; they began to feel uneasy and quotations extensively. Little relief may be expected from the payment of November coupons, since out of the twenty-six millions due about seventeen millions belong to European bondholders.

Government securities are very dull, and have still more declined since yesterday, except Five Twenties of 1862, which are manipulated by a clique of very respectable dealers who find the keynote to their operations in reliable information from headquarters. The outside public are not buying at present, and larger holders are converting their securities into mortgages at high interest.

The stock market is in a feverish condition, and is without any support outside of Wall street; even professional stock gamblers from the interior have ceased dealing in stocks, since there is no reliance on the honesty of even the most respectable houses of Wall street. Wild and paper money expansion has demoralized the legitimate business of the country, and it will take another such tumble in stocks as took place last February to weed out one-half of the firms of Broad street.

Mining shares are dull and a trifle lower today; the pressure for money forces parties to sell even high priced valuable stocks that are not yet paying dividends.

Money in town is getting scarcer every day, and 18 per cent. is offered for securities that would have brought out money at 6 per cent. less than three months ago.

—It will be observed that the ten-forties are comparatively firm. The authorizing act of this bond demands the payment of the principal and interest in coin. Some are partial to the ten-forties because they are long. Such persons are needlessly fearful that the Government itself will refuse the five years option upon the five-twenties. The holder of the ten-forties now one is not obliged to lose by the payment of premium. The sixes of '81 of 1861 were issued prior to the passage of the legal tender act, and are of course payable only in coin, as coin was the only United States money then in existence. There are outstanding about a hundred and twenty millions of these sixes. The five-twenties of 1862 ($15 millions now outstanding) are also in the same category with the sixes of '81. Hence, these last named two bonds sell a little higher than others of the same general character. None of our United States bonds bear upon their face the promise of payment of principal in coin, but as has been truly remarked by Mr. McCulloch, the policy of Government in this matter is well understood, and this policy will be backed up by further legislation if necessity requires it.

—There is no new light yet thrown upon the late seven-thirty fraud, and the public are left in doubt as to the method by which the so-called counterfeits were obtained, though the matter has no longer any effect upon the market for United States securities. The Journal of Commerce says:

"We do not believe that the plate from which they were printed is an entire counterfeit made by an artist as a copy from the printed note. We believe either that the plate from which these rejected bonds were printed and, it is supposed, a large amount of money. His dead body was discovered last evening in Raightersville, a negro settlement below Camden. There were no marks of violence on the body, but he had been robbed of all his valuables. He apparently died from an apoplectic fit.

WILMINGTON, N. C., October 18.—The Republicans have nominated General J. Z. Abbott and S. S. Ashley, white, and H. H. Galloway, colored, for the Convention. Some of the negroes are dissatisfied because there are not two of their color on the ticket.

The Largest Oysters.—The Oyster season has commenced in right good earnest, and our friend Holtzheimer, of the popular Continental Dining Rooms, Fifth street, next door to the Postoffice, daily receives supplies of the finest quality from the best makets. Call in and try a chafing dish, or have them served up in any style according to your own taste. The largest, best and finest oysters in the city are those at Holtzheimer's.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

The produce markets appear devoid of any special excitement, although there is a fair amount of business transacted in a regular way. Grain has declined considerably in the West within the past day or two, and Flour, also, has depreciated slightly, but in this market, as yet, there has been no corresponding movement; but, unless there is a reaction in Chicago and New York, there will also be a decline here. In other articles, there are no new features worthy of special notice.

GRAIN—Wheat is in good demand and very limited supply; prime Penna. and Ohio Red may be quoted at $2,35@2,40. Corn is coming in pretty freely, and with a very light demand, prices are barely maintained; we quote at $1,25@1,28 for good to prime Yellow. Barley is a little dull and unsettled, owing to rather unfavorable advices from abroad, though as yet, prices are unchanged—we continue to quote at $1,30@1,35. Rye is quotable at $1,50 @1,55. Oats steady at 45@46c on track, and 70c in store.

FLOUR—Is quiet but steady with a fair local demand at former quotations, and while the supply is fair, it is by no means large. We continue to quote at $11,25@11,50 for Spring Wheat; $12,50@13 for Winter Wheat; and $14@ 14 50 for fancy brands. Rye Flour quoted at $8,50 to $9.

GROCERIES—The Grocery market during the last week has been dull, and prices, generally, are unchanged. We quote as follows: Raw Sugars—Porto Rico, 13¼@15c; Cuba, 13@ 14c. Refined—Hard, 18c; "A," 17c; "B," 13½c; Extra "C," 16½c; "C" Yellow, 15½c. Coffee—Choice, 27c; roasting, 23c. Molasses—New Orleans—none in market; Porto Rico, 70@80c. Teas—Young Hyson, choice, $1,75; Oolong, $1@1,50; G. P., $1,85@2. Rice—Rangoon 9¾@ 10¼c; Carolina, 12½c.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet but steady at 14¼@16c for Shoulders; 17@18c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 22c for Plain Sugar Cured Hams, and 24@24½c for Canvassed do. Lard, 14½@15c, and Mess Pork, $24,50@25.

SEEDS—We can report small sales of Flaxseed at $2,40; it is probable that a round lot would bring $2,50. Timothy Seed is in good supply and very dull; round lots are being offered at $2,50. Cloverseed is nominal at $8 to $8,50.

BUTTER—Is dull, under the influence of increased arrivals, and prices appear to be tending downward; prime Roll is quoted at 35@36c, and fresh packed, 30@33c.

CHEESE—Is firm but unchanged; regular sales at 14@15c.

EGGS—Steady, with a demand fully up to the supply, and fresh packed may be quoted firm at 30c.

APPLES—The market is completely glutted, and, as a consequence, prices are drooping, ranging all the way from $2@3 per bbl, for common to choice.

OIL—Lard Oil is firm, with a fair demand, and regular sales by manufacturers at 95c for No. 2, and $1,15 for No. 1.

HAY—Is quiet and unchanged; regular sales from country wagons at $15@20 per ton, according to quality.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

CRUDE—The market was again dull to-day, and spot oil sold at a refustion, while for future deliveries, there seemed to be no buyers. Sale of 149 bbls at 13½, bbls to be returned, and 1000 bbls, on spot, at 13¾—in tank. There may have been other sales, but these were all we had reported; we heard of some ten thousand barrels having been offered at 11¼, to be delivered on first water, and seller's option, all the year, without finding takers. The supply of spot oil is light, and as it is being steadily reduced, and but little prospect at present of early bulk rise, holders are not very urgent about selling—that is, they are
